CHRISTMAS

WHY THE 25TH OF DECEMBER IS OBSERVED

Notwithstanding the widespread observance of the [illegible] day of December as the anniversary of the birth of the Saviour [illegible] and the fact that [illegible] other day is observed in all the Christian world [illegible] commemoration of the event [illegible] there are no sufficient grounds for fixing upon this exact day [illegible] that some [illegible] day specially [illegible] in exactly accord with the statement of the gospel narrative that the shepherds were abiding in the field keeping watch over their flock by night And it has been claimed by some that the season [illegible] summer and flowers and the gladness of nature would have been the time for such an auspicious event.

As for the first it should be remembered that the climate of Judea [illegible] would easily allow of such [illegible] even if it were necessary to conclude [illegible] both shepherds and sheep [illegible] in the open fields. The sheep were surely cared for in the winter in some way whether the climate was mild or severe and the shepherds could not have been far away nor unwatchful whether there were calm or storm It was not unless of such employment as these that the shepherd Jacob said of his service to Laban In the day the drought consumed me and the frost by night and my sleep departed from mine eyes

The idea that the nativity should have been in the bright and joyous summer season may accord with the poetic sentiments of some minds but it is not in accordance with the conceit of Milton who would have been the last to accept any ecclesiastical traditions against sober facts and realities His grand Hymn of the Nativity opens with these lines

> It was the winter wild
> While the heaven born child
> All meanly wrapt in the rude manger lies
> Nature in awe to him
> Had doffed her gaudy trim
> With her great Master so to sympathize
> It was no season then for her
> To wanton with the sun her lusty paramour

But there are other and stronger reasons than these for accepting the 25th of December as the true time of Christ's birth some of which are the following

It is well known that for some time there were different days observed by different portions of the church The eastern churches of Egypt Jerusalem Antioch Cyprus etc at first observed the 6th of January now the festival of the Epiphany on which they commemorated the Epiphanies or manifestations of Christ—first that of his birth second that of the appearance of the star which guided the wise men to Bethlehem third that of his baptism and fourth that of his first miracle at Cana of Galilee

In the western church however the 25th of December was observed from the earliest times of which any records remain as the day of Christ's [illegible] and St Basil and Gregory Nazianzen A D 3[illegible]0 had sermons upon this festival [illegible] Chrysostom of the same century says that it was a day of great [illegible] from the beginning We are not left however to these general statements but have positive historic of the nature of the testimony upon which this judgment of the whole church was founded In the churches of the east where for a long time the disciples of Christ were of the humble and lowly walks of life and where from various causes and especially that of persecution there was little intercourse with the western churches it is no matter of surprise that there should have been uncertainty in reference to the time of Christ's birth But not so in the western or Latin churches to which the records of the Roman government were accessible And so we find that in the year 140 of the common era Justin Martyr writing as is supposed from the city of Rome itself says to the emperor Antoninus Pius There is a certain village in the land of Judea distant thirty five stadia from Jerusalem in which Christ was born as ye can learn from the enrolments completed under Cyrenius your first procurator in Judea Justin doubtless had himself seen this enrollment or he would not have so boldly referred the emperor and senate to it St Augustine who might have had access to the same Roman archives says in a sermon on the nativity of St John the Baptist Christ was born on the eighth day before the calends of January which would be the 25th of December

We still have extant in the works of St. Chrysostom a sermon preached in the city of Antioch on the 25th of December in the year of the common era 386 with this title Homily for the birth day of our Saviour Jesus Christ which day was unknown until a few years since when some persons coming from the west made it known and publicly announced it It appears from this sermon that ten years previous this time the eastern church had adopted the 25th of December—on the testimony of the same enrollment to which Justin referred and of which St Chrysostom thus speaks It is lawful for any of you who wishes to know accurately to search the [illegible] deposited in Rome and there learn the time of that enrollment

From the time that his testimony was brought from Rome to the eastern churches the 25th of December [illegible] everywhere received as the true day of Christ's birth [illegible] only ten years of [illegible] rapidly risen and flourished that it [illegible] of its being [illegible] When the council of Ephesus as[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] is consistent and the there [illegible] that [illegible] The answer is that the owner of property has a right to dispose of it with all [illegible] restriction [illegible] however much the restriction may affect the value or the nature of the estate Repugnant conditions are those which tend to the utter subversion of the estate such as prohibit entirely [illegible] use of the property Conditions which prohibit its alienation to particular persons or for a limited period or its subjection to particular uses are not subversive of the estate they do not destroy or limit its alienable or inheritable character Sheppard's Touchstone 129 131 The reports are full of cases where conditions imposing restrictions upon the uses to which property conveyed [illegible] may be subjected have been upheld In this way slaughter houses soap factories distilleries livery stables tanneries and machine shops have in a multitude of instances been excluded from particular localities which thus freed from unpleasant sights [illegible] noxious vapors or disturbing noises have become desirable as places for residences of families To hold that conditions for their exclusion from premises conveyed are inoperative would defeat numerous arrangements in our large cities for the health and comfort of whole neighborhoods The condition in the deed of the plaintiff against the manufacture or the sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage at any place of public resort on the premises was not subversive of the estate conveyed It left the estate alienable and inheritable and free to be subjected to other uses It was not unlawful in its aim [illegible] public policy but on the contrary it was imposed in the interest of public health and morality For cases in which similar conditions have been sustained see Plumb v Tubbs 41 N Y 442 Doe v Keeling 1 M & S 9 Gray v Blanchard 8 Pick 282 14 Kas 61

Mr Schaeffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati Ohio says in his report that after ten years of close investigation he can safely say that very few if any pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of little large and [illegible] dangerous drugs in all their French wines that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States Other proofs could be cited were it necessary to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy Orders from responsible parties addressed to Wm Schaeffler or Geo H Beuch, St Helena Napa county Cal will [illegible]

WEDNESDAY MORNING DEC [illegible]

THAT SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

[illegible] that he is in Washington employed ostensibly by the government as committee clerk but really to create a boom in Oregon for the representatives of the democracy from this state. [illegible] The labor of these overworked persons spreads itself over the whole country so that no section will be slighted in their untiring efforts to conserve the interests of a suffering country. However the efforts of the correspondent to create a boom in Oregon for her representatives will fail, because the people are too well acquainted with them ever to confide in them sufficiently to think that they are able and willing to work for the benefit of the state without collecting double toll for their work. It is their record here, and it will take a long time to eradicate the opinion which well informed persons have of those gentlemen.

The correspondent is no less inaccurate in his statements about our busy representatives than he is on the standing of the two great parties on the financial situation. To fortify his perverted genius he says as you have seen by telegraphed congressional proceedings the republicans are split on the greenback. This is a piece of information that only exists in the fertile imagination of this Oregon boomer. It is well known that the republicans in caucus decided not to attempt any legislation on the finances. It is further known that the republicans are in the minority in both branches of congress and that it would be useless for them to try any legislation on the financial or any other question with the united democracy to oppose them. It is well known that the republicans decided on a policy of non committal on account of not being in a position to agitate the question. The western republicans are not in favor of restricting the legal tender quality of the greenback while the eastern republicans are endeavoring to make sure doubly sure on the resumption of specie payments and take away the legal tender qualities of the greenback currency. The position of the democrats is more embarrassing. The dominant party in congress has at all times used its utmost endeavors to curry favor with the handful of greenbackers in congress and the chaotic mass known as the greenback party. The eastern representatives of that party are and have been for a sound financial policy, while the western democrats have been notorious for their soft money tendencies and opposed to all measures that will tend to put the greenback out of circulation. These facts are well known. After the republican caucus, the eastern republican press denounced in very unmeasured terms what they styled the cowardice of the republicans in congress, and were especially bitter against the eastern republicans for consenting to a non interference policy. In the face of all the facts this special correspondent has the unabashed effrontery to say "The republicans, as you have seen by the telegraphed congressional proceedings have split on the greenback, and the democrats in caucus decided upon a plan of non-interference, as they owned neither dog in the fight."

And discoursing still farther on the subject of which he knows so little, he touches Senator Bayard "Mr. Smarty Bayard couldn't abide by the action of the caucus, and insisted upon putting himself on record with the National Bank wing of the republicans—and he cut his throat and let out all the presidential wind that has heretofore buoyed him up and created his boom." It is well known that the south has announced their intention to support Mr "Smarty" Bayard as he is pleased to call him. The southern representatives say that they have nothing to hope for from the west and that the east has the capital which the south needs for the development of her resources, and that they will support Mr Bayard's resolution.

Speaking of the coming presidential canvass he advises the democrats to direct all their efforts toward New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Oregon, as they can surely carry these states and elect their president. This advice is given to the democratic committee and no doubt in his zeal for the cause it is volunteered free of cost. However he forgot to say that if the democrats ever carried out a single promise, their party in the elasticity of youth might hope in the course of the next century to create a spark of confidence in their leaders.

A FRAGILE HOPE

The hope of the democracy to succeed because of an imaginary division among the republicans upon the currency question is one which is at least very uncertain. It is true that while the president recommends the retirement of the legal tenders, Secretary Sherman, without favoring their reduction below three hundred millions, proposes the repeal of the legal tender quality. Many republicans both in and out of congress think it best to do nothing at present. And we are told, says the Albany Journal, that out of these facts the democrats who went to Washington demoralized and despondent are drawing some comfort. How pitiable their plight when they rest their only hope on such fragile ground? They will find it dashed as every prospect before it has been. The finances of the country are in a sound condition. Resumption, confidence, security and prosperity have been restored. We might do worse than let well enough alone for the present. If further steps are important republicans will be able by comparison and discussion to agree upon them as they have heretofore. They are now in a minority. But whether as a minority or majority they are equal to their occasions and their duties.

When the democrats clutch at so slender a thread as a largely imaginary difference among republicans upon a contingent question they expose their desperate situation. It is not strange that they eagerly seize upon the dimmest ray of a possible opportunity. Never was a party in a more melancholy plight. They are broken and demoralized—beaten on every issue they have made and, what is worse without any issue or any line of battle for the future. They came to [illegible] a year ago with a bold front and [illegible] They proclaimed their [illegible] the election laws to ob[illegible] legislation to compel the sur[illegible] president to overthrow the [illegible] system to [illegible] the government [illegible] execute it [illegible] everything that republican [illegible] done [illegible] the pres[illegible] of this [illegible] they [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible]

They come to the present [illegible] the mast-head [illegible] of last spring [illegible] over again [illegible] the other [illegible] they abandon their own issues, they [illegible] crimes and their failure [illegible] have no other [illegible] Between these [illegible] are utterly destitute of a policy and have only the desperate hope that some chance may somehow spring up.

The Tribune's interpretation of [illegible] matter [illegible] added [illegible] against [illegible] customary [illegible] does not attempt to do [illegible] through a col[illegible] few readers that [illegible] importance. If that [illegible] anything is a news[illegible] [illegible] wa[illegible] contains.

The democrats [illegible] Maine [illegible] to receive a backset. The giants of the republican party at Washington have been studying the matter over and [illegible] the [illegible] for the great wrong which the fusionists have attempted to carry out. The [illegible] in our dispatches and if it be true that the president has agreed to stand by the republicans there may be some fun. Wayne McVeagh may be required to use his persuasive powers on the Garcelon faction in Maine. His methods or those which he is alleged to have practiced in Louisiana would probably succeed quite as well with Maine democrats.

Mexico is taking the part of a benefactor. A delegation of prominent gentlemen of that country have invited Ben F Butler the irrepressible to take the protectorate of that country. The important rumor lacking confirmation says that Butler has not yet accepted. It has been suggested that they might also have Denis Kearney.

The Helena (Montana) Independent says: "The present population of Dakota is estimated at 120,000 and it is confidently predicted that the territory will have 180,000 by the end of 1880. In 1870 its population was much less than that of Montana —in fact was less than 15,000. Railroads have brought about the change."

In St John's (Episcopal) church Milwaukie Oregon Dec 23 1879 by the Rev James R W Sellwood assisted by the Rev John W Sellwood Thomas R A [illegible] late of the Dalles, and Miss Josephine M Bunnell of Milwaukie.

At Rainier Dec 23 1879 by Dean Blanchard Mr Smith K[illegible] to Miss Ellen Wanty.

DIED

At his residence, on Holladay avenue East Portland, Dec 23 1879 Presley George in the 82d year of his age.

Funeral from his residence at half past two o'clock P M to day.

Deceased was born in Loudoun county Virginia and while but a boy came to Ohio crossing and wading the Ohio river at the spot where Wheeling now stands and in 1851 emigrated to the state of Oregon.

Nearly fifty three years ago he was married to Mahala Nickerson and for more than half of a century they journeyed together along the path way of life and through its joys and its tears its perils and its rewards, until finally death came and called the one and left the other to mourn the loss.

The more immediate cause of his death was a recent fall from a chair and being large and advanced in life much beyond the allotted time and having been for years afflicted with rheumatism through exposure in early active pioneer life the shock was too great and it loosened the silver chord and broke the golden bowl of his life. Though for years he had scarcely been free from pain and often subjected to terribly intense suffering yet he never was heard to murmur or complain. His extreme patience and fortitude were remarkable, for never during his most afflicted period did a cross or impatient word escape his lips. For many long years he had been a devout and consistent Christian, ready and willing to answer the summons of death at any moment. He was an affectionate and indulgent husband and father, and a true citizen of his country. His aged wife and two sons—J W George, Esq, of Seattle and M C George of this city—survive him. His life pure and unsullied came to a close at a fitting time when all nature is bared for the closing year and decked in the snowy whiteness and purity of winter and to day beneath these snows and in the purity of the winter of his life, he will be laid away neath the shadows of the lone fir in the cemetery. Peace be unto him.

CITY.

[illegible] PUGET SOUND MAILS.—Heretofore when the lower Columbia river has been blockaded, mail communication as well as any other sort of traffic has been stopped. For several days last year the Puget Sound and northern mails were delayed in this city, while all matter from the other end of the line was piled up at Kalama. In the event of a blockade of the lower river which now seems inevitable, the postal authorities should engage transportation from this city by land to a point opposite Kalama where exchange of mail sacks across the river could be made. The distance between that point and Portland is but forty miles, and as the road is first class all the way, the block would not occasion any delay. By leaving the city at 4 o'clock in the morning, connection could be made with the Tacoma train at Kalama on regular time. It is certainly to be hoped that this opportunity will not be neglected this winter as it was last.

THE DALLES MAIL.—Instructions were received by the postal authorities in this city yesterday afternoon to attempt an overland carriage of the up-river mail. Messrs. Foster & Ladd, the contractors, will leave this morning at six o'clock with all the letter and part of the paper mail. The sacks will be packed upon horses, and the trail leading along the south side of the river will be followed. No one has crossed this trail for several months, and as it is known that there have been recent heavy snowfalls in the mountains, it is feared that the attempt will not be successful. Nothing has yet been heard of Mr. H. D. Sandborn of this city, who left the Cascades, upward bound, on Monday, which indicates that passage is difficult and dangerous, even if it is possible. Every effort will be made to send the mails through promptly during the blockade.

[illegible]—Last evening St. Stephen's chapel was the scene of the marriage of Mr. [illegible] Dobinson to Miss Ruth Sutton, Bishop Morris officiating, assisted by Rev. [illegible] Rosenberg. The audience hall was [illegible] crowded with the immediate friends of the contracting parties and those directly connected with St. Helen's Hall. Mr. Dobinson is well and favorably known in insurance and society circles, and the bride has been for some time connected with St. Helen's Hall, and is well known in society circles. The happy couple held a reception at St. Helen's Hall subsequent to the ceremony, those in attendance being [illegible] the former school associates of the lady. Later in the evening they retired to their new home in the south end.

[illegible] AT MONMOUTH.—The following additional particulars of the recent heavy fire at Monmouth are obtained from the Statesman: [illegible] of fire was sounded through the town and almost every man in the town, together with many women, rushed forth to help stay the devouring flames. There was no engine in the place there was no means of extinguishing the fire except by the means of forming lines of buckets [illegible] neighboring wells. This part did, [illegible] busied themselves tearing down [illegible] that stood in the way. Finally, [illegible], after a number of hours of incessant labor, the fire was got under control. The loss is estimated at $10,000, with no insurance. The fire caught from a defective flue.

[illegible]—The East Portland Vindicator says: The railing on the Fourth street bridge, in Holladay's addition, is in a terribly demoralized condition, and unless the [illegible] is exercised we may have to [illegible] a serious, if not fatal accident as [illegible]. In view of the fact that the ice [illegible] to reign for a season, we caution [illegible] against the common practice of [illegible] the railing to witness the skating [illegible] below. It is a matter of importance and should be attended to without [illegible]

[illegible] AGAIN.—Old "Last Chance" [illegible] again in limbo. He was discharged from the asylum a few days ago and [illegible] roaring drunk. Chief Lappeus [illegible] Miller, and it is needless to add he [illegible] Miller is now in jail endeavoring [illegible]. It is the "old racket." Miller [illegible] have been discharged from the [illegible] he is a hopeless inebriate and [illegible] damages him. If he is permitted to run at large, some person will get [illegible] injured by this semi-lunatic.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.—In compliance with a general request, the entertainment [illegible] was given at the Y. M. C. A. [illegible] the evening of December 5th, will be [illegible] next Friday evening, 26th inst. [illegible] and additions will be made, [illegible] amount features of the programme [illegible] as at the former entertainment. [illegible] of admission will be 50 and 25 [illegible] can be purchased of the [illegible] the society and at the music [illegible]

[illegible] QUARTERS.—All the steamers [illegible] been plying on the upper Willamette, with the exception of the Occident, [illegible] winter quarters yesterday. The boats are lying near the foot of [illegible]. The Occident is up the river and [illegible] here to-day. On reaching Portland she will be laid up. As yet no [illegible] reported in the upper Willamette.

[illegible] FESTIVAL.—The Christmas festival of parents and children of the German [illegible] Sunday school, corner of [illegible] and Clay streets, will be Christmas [illegible] 25th, at 7 o'clock. All [illegible] Admission free. Christmas [illegible] o'clock A. M. H. W. Axthelm,

[illegible]—Monday afternoon the [illegible] train was delayed some time [illegible] climb the steep grade on [illegible]. However, the grade was overcome [illegible] and the train went on up the [illegible] the freight and passenger [illegible] and departed on time.

[illegible]—Dame Rumor who is always [illegible] her tongue, has again whispered [illegible] one of Portland's young ladies [illegible] to one of the disciples of the [illegible] palette, who for some time has [illegible] here. Next Tuesday is the [illegible] is the word.

[illegible] IMPRISONED.—Sheriff F. P. [illegible] of Douglas county, brought three [illegible] sentenced for stealing horses, to [illegible] of the state penitentiary yesterday afternoon. Two of the prisoners were [illegible] six years, the other for three.

[illegible]—Owing to some interference between telephone wires and the wires connected with the big bell, it tapped once yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, and also once in [illegible]. The alarms caused more than [illegible] excitement.

[illegible] ANTLERS.—Mr. Al. Zieber of [illegible], was the recipient yesterday of [illegible] pair of elk horns, from a friend [illegible]. They are models of symmetrical [illegible] and Mr. Zieber is justly proud of [illegible]

[illegible] WELL.—James Kelly, who was injured at Clackamas station on Monday, is, we [illegible] to learn, doing very well. The [illegible] not as severe as were at first anticipated and his speedy recovery is anticipated.

[illegible] BY ICE.—The British bark Arthur [illegible] by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., cleared [illegible] Liverpool, but was unable to proceed [illegible] to Astoria on account of ice in [illegible]. Ship Tecumseh likewise.

[illegible] TREE.—The Christmas tree service connected with the south Portland [illegible] Sunday school, will begin at 4:30 [illegible]. The chapel is finely decorated [illegible] time anticipated.

"Alas! to-morrow 'tis Christmas day."

On Sunday an inmate of the asylum named George W. Erwin, who has been at that institution for nine years, died. His body was taken by friends to Salem for burial.

If you still thirst for fame what you want to do is simply to get a paper collar named after you and not sit up burning the midnight oil trying to down Edison on the electric light.

A poet with the influenza plaintively says:

It is dow the bleak Deceber,
You do dot just rebeber
We subbose,
Wied frob wud side to the other,
You have do ode of bother
With your dose.

COLORED EMIGRATION SOCIETY.

The meeting of this society, in Good Templar Hall, last evening, called together quite a good audience. The advertised programme was followed closely and all the speakers were present except Rev. J. A. Cruzan, who was unwell, and forwarded a communication which was read and expressed to all present his deep interest and sympathy with the society, and its work. The opening address by Mr. A. Ferguson, the presiding officer of the evening, was a chaste and forcible presentation of the nature and aims of the Emigration Society, and the necessities for its organization. Misses B. Riley and Hattie Flowers, respectively 12 and 9 years of age, performed their parts finely. The music and singing was very good.

The speakers, Revs. T. L. Eliot and G. H. Atkinson, Hon. B. H. Northup, G. P. Riley, Esq., Hon. J. F. Caples, Gen. E. Applegate, Dr. Volkman and Mrs. A. J. Duniway, occupied the evening until a late hour. Each spoke well. The points made were—

1st—The right of the colored citizen to move.

2d—The present exodus of the colored people of the south, the evidence of their freedom.

3d—By the means of this movement the colored citizen will compel the respect of southern magnates, and ultimate in the solution of the problem of his freedom.

At the close of Mrs. Duniway's excellent impromptu effort, the assembly repaired to the well furnished tables to partake of a welcome collation prepared by the ladies.

These meetings can be productive only of great good, as they promote a more general interest in our colored American citizen in the present movement which "the shotgun policy," and the "Yazoo plan" of the "solid south" demagogues have so unwisely adopted and so ferociously executed.

THE WEATHER.

No Indications of Letting Up—Extreme Cold Weather East of the Mountains—Upper River Closed—Prospects of Early Closing of the Lower Columbia—Weather Elsewhere.

The steamer Emma Hayward left here yesterday morning for the Cascades, but before reaching Vancouver was compelled to return to this city in consequence of the river being full of ice. She came back, and has gone into winter quarters. No further attempt to reach the Cascades will be made by the O. S. N. Co's boats until the river is reported free of ice.

The steamer Vancouver returned here yesterday from Vancouver, but not without experiencing considerable difficulty. It was deemed imprudent to attempt to reach that point again. The [illegible] left here at 2 o'clock P. M. yesterday with passengers. After entering the Columbia, the boat reached Hathaway's landing, about two miles above the mouth of the Willamette on the Washington territory side, where the passengers debarked. The boat then returned to this city. She will start out again this morning at 8 o'clock. It is not expected that the Vancouver will be able to reach Hathaway's landing to-day, but will proceed directly across to the opposite shore of the Columbia. Persons who desire to reach Vancouver to-day should bear this announcement in mind.

The steamer Dixie Thompson arrived here from Astoria last evening, and came by way of the slough, as [illegible] encountered but little ice. At Willow bar the river was nearly frozen over. The Bonita, which went down the river yesterday, met with a great deal of thin ice. This morning the Dixie Thompson will start down the river, but there is much doubt about her being able to reach Astoria.

The Columbia river is frozen clear across opposite Vancouver. There is one unbroken sheet of ice from shore to shore about two inches thick.

A dispatch was received here last evening from Jacksonville, which states that the stage line, clear through to Redding, is all right, and stages are making regular time.

Thus far there has been no delays on the east side road. The north and south bound trains make regular time.

Up the River.

Dispatches from up the Columbia received last evening at 6:30 at the O. S. N. Co.'s office, indicate the following state of the weather:

Walla Walla—Clear; calm; thermometer, 3° below zero.

Dalles—Clear; calm; thermometer, 2° below zero.

Scotts—Clear; east wind light; thermometer, 16° below zero.

Wallula—Thermometer, 10° below zero; clear; river full of ice so that cannot tell anything about the stage of water; ice about 5 inches deep.

Umatilla—Thermometer, 11° below zero; clear; no wind.

Celilo—Clear; thermometer, 3° below zero; river has fallen 9 inches in last 24 hours; the present gauge is 1 foot and 8 inches.

Hood River—Cloudy; thermometer now 4° below zero; thermometer has risen 5° during the last half hour.

Cascades—Cloudy; thermometer, 9° above zero.

Willows—Clear; calm; thermometer, 6°, below zero; only thin ice in river.

S. W. O. ON OREGON.

A Correspondent in the Detroit Free Press Gives His or Her, as the Case may be, Preconceived Ideas of Oregon.

A correspondent, "S. W. O.," writing to the Detroit Free Press from Salem under date of Nov. [illegible], about Oregon evidently was sadly disappointed, and after setting down the feeling of [illegible] pressed him or her as the case may be. Everything [illegible] this state was so uneventful that even a complaint is made because Neptune did not insert his trident into the delicate stomach of the writer. S. W. O. says: "Never experienced a moment of sea sickness on the three days' voyage from San Francisco. I enjoyed the rough sea very much," and he or she, as the case may be, was sorry when he or she, as the case may be, heard the announcement of the Columbia river light being sighted. It is to be regretted that the stomach of this [illegible] correspondent was not called upon to pay tribute to the relentless sea. [illegible] at Astoria, some [illegible] him, or her as the case may be, [illegible] to Portland, [illegible] would be [illegible]. But [illegible] or her as the case may be, trip up the broad bosom of the Columbia was a [illegible] to Portland are not particularly attractive, and our [illegible], as the case may be, [illegible] to set on the [illegible] of expectancy until he or she, as the case may be, arrives at the beautiful city of the northwest, where a fertile brain arouses itself and tells a story about the crowd that went to the steamer to see General Grant, and in fact makes a readable story of it to persons unacquainted with the excitement attending the landing of a steamer. But when he or she, as the case may be, lands, he or she, as the case may be, [illegible] to his or her, as the case may be, accustomed stupor and self complacency and betrays the fact that the first class hotels are only first class in prices, when it is well known that the [illegible] better than S. W. O. is accustomed to, and the fare had a more striking effect on his or her, as the case may be, [illegible] gastric structure than the pitiless sea, against which he or she, as the case may be, moans. After being superbly fed he or she, as the case may be, sallies forth and his or her, as the case may be, overcrowded stomach stirs his or her, as the case may be, imagination and sees nothing distinctive about Portland and describes the city in a short and mistaken way. He or she, as the case may be, had made up his or her mind to see something exciting, and had his or her fancy worked up to see something tragic, and there was nothing more to arouse his or her lethargy than he or she, as the case may be, was accustomed to in Detroit. Our peaceful city was not what he or she, as the case may be, had expected, and he or she, as the case may be, carefully conceals everything that would startle the placid readers of the Free Press. But this stolid occasionally is evidently overbalanced when he or she, as the case may be, goes up the Columbia to the Cascades, and says he or she was "induced to join some excursionists on being assured of seeing some of the finest scenery in the world, and as a combination of magnificent land and river views I must acknowledge that I never saw their equal." Just fancy the staid and quiet perusers of this column of news being shook off their equilibrium by this exciting announcement. "S. W. O." is carried away in ecstatic admiration, and seated in his or her retreat he or she, as the case may be, just gushes a little over the scenery, and says that "enthusiastic lovers of the beauties of nature might remain here (Upper Cascades) for hours, inspired with the scenes around him." It is fortunate that this individual was self-complacent, self satisfied and serene, for had he or she, as the case may be, been dyspeptic a closer observation might have discovered some of our distinctive faults.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it, and often find too late that a Fever or Lung trouble has set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken a cure would have resulted and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year, without a single failure known.

Forewarned Forearmed.

Physicians and invalids use with confidence The Kaiser Celebrated German Elixir for Consumption and throat and lung diseases. Be sure you get only German Elixir. The genuine bears the Prussian coat of arms and the fac-simile signature of Dr. Kaiser. Samples at all drug stores. Large size 75 cents.

SUICIDE.

A distinguished Scientist once said: "No man with a strong, healthy stomach ever committed suicide, yet many suffer the torments of the damned with dyspepsia, when a single bottle of DR. MINTIE'S ENGLISH DANDELION LIVER AND DYSPEPSIA PILLS will give relief, and, if persisted in, cure the worse case of this distressing trouble. This pill cures torpid liver, biliousness, sallow complexion, foul breath, sick headache, heartburn, pain in side and back, removes pimples from the face, regulates the bowels, is sugar-coated and guaranteed purely vegetable. It acts directly on the coating of the stomach and on the liver; is suited to any climate, wet or dry weather. Beware of imitations; genuine has cut of lion on outside wrapper. Price, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, wholesale agents.

How to Save Money.

Instead of going to a doctor, if you have Bright's Disease, Diabetes, pain in back and loins, smarting, inflammation, calculi, brick-dust deposit, or any trouble of the kidneys or bladder, buy a bottle of DR. MINTIE'S NEPHRETICUM, the great Buchu Compound. It is the best prescription ever compounded for these troubles. Abrams & Carroll, Wholesale Druggists say: "We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy in the market." Woodward, druggist, Portland, Oregon, says: "Everybody speaks highly of it." Childs, druggist, Portland, says: "Sold lots of it; it always does the work." Many have been cured of obstinate kidney complaints after the doctors gave them up. Sold by all druggists. Price $1 25. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portland, Wholesale Agents.

Sir Astley Cooper's Vital Restorative.

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

MARK TWAIN.

HIS VIEWS ON THE NEW POSTAL BARBARISM.

HARTFORD, Nov. 22.—To the Editor of the Courant: The new postal regulation adds quite perceptibly to my daily burden of labor. Needlessly, too, as I think. A day or two ago I made a note of the addresses which I had put upon letters that day, and then ciphered up to see how many words the additional particularities of the new ruling had cost me. It was seventy-two. That amounts to just a page of my manuscript exactly. If it were stuff that a magazine would enjoy, I could sell it, and gradually get rich as time rolled on; as it isn't, I lose the time and the ink. I don't get a cent for it; the government grows no wealthier; I grow poorer; nobody in the world is benefited. Seventy-two words utterly wasted; and, mind you, when a man is paid by the word—at least, by the page, which is the same thing—this sort of thing hurts. Here are one or two specimens from these addresses, with the unnecessary additions in italics:

Editor "Atlantic Monthly,"
Care Messrs. Houghton, Osgood & Co.,
Winthrop Square,
Boston,
Mass.

Nine words wasted—I used to use only the first line and the word "Boston"—and until the letter carriers lose their minds the additional nine words can never become necessary.

Messrs. Arnold, Constable & Co.,
Cor. Nineteenth and B'way,
New York,
N. Y.

Six unnecessary words.

Gilsey House,
Cor. Twenty-ninth and B'way,
New York,

Six unnecessary words.

Even the dead people in Boston and New York could tell a letter carrier how to find these prominent houses. That same day I wrote a letter to a friend at the Windsor hotel, New York; surely that house is prominent enough, isn't it? But I could not precisely name the side streets, neither did I know the name of the back street, nor head cook's name. So that letter would have gone to the dead letter office, sure, if I hadn't covered it all over with an appeal to Mr. James to take it under his personal official protection and let it go to that man at the Windsor, just this once, and I would not offend any more.

Now you know, yourself, that there is no need of an official decree to compel a man to make a letter address full and elaborate where it is at all necessary,—for the writer is more anxious that his letter shall go through than the postmaster general can be. And when the writer cannot supply those minute details from lack of knowledge, the decree cannot help him in the least. So what is the use of the decree? As for those common mistakes, the misdirecting of letters, the leaving off the county, the state, etc.,—do you think an official decree can do away with that? You know yourself that heedless, absent minded people are bound to make mistakes, and that no decree can knock the disposition out of them.

Observe this,—I have been ciphering, and I know that the following facts are correct. The new law will compel 18,000 great mercantile houses to employ three extra correspondents at $1000 a year—$54,000—small establishments in proportion. It will compel 30,000,000 of our people to write a daily average of ten extra words apiece,—300,000,000 unnecessary words; most of these people are slow,—the average will be half a minute consumed on each ten words,—15,000,000 minutes of the nation's time fooled away every day,—say 247,000 hours—which amounts to about 25,000 working days of ten hours each; this makes eighty two years of three hundred working days each, counting out Sundays and sickness—eighty-two years of this nation's time wholly thrown away every day! Value of the average man's time, say $1000 a year—now do do you see?—$82,000 thrown away daily; in round numbers $25,000,000 yearly; in ten years, $250,000,000; in a hundred years, $2,500,000,000, in a million years, but I have not the nerve to go on; you can see yourself what we are coming to. If this law continues in force, there will not be money enough in this country, by and by, to pay for its obituary, and you mark my words it will need one.

Now we come to the ink. No, let us forbear, in fancy I already see the fleets of the world sailing in it.

Isn't it odd that we should take a spasm, every now and then, and go spinning back into the Dark Ages once more, after having put in a world of time and money and work toiling up into the high lights of modern progress?

For many years it has been England's boast that her postal system is so admirable that you can't so cripple the direction of a letter that the postoffice department won't manage some way to find the person the missive is intended for. We could say that, too, once. But we have retired a hundred years, within the last two months, and now it is our boast that only the brightest and thoughtfulest, and knowingest men's letters will ever be permitted to reach their destinations, and that those of the mighty majority of the American people—the heedless, the unthinking, the illiterate—will be rudely shot by the shortest route to the dead-letter office and destruction. It seems to me that this new decree is very decidedly un American.

MARK TWAIN.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

[New York Tribune.]

That long recess will probably be the ablest act of this congress.

The president's backbone seems to be in first-rate working order—fairly rampant, as it were.

Kansas claims an increase of 114,095 in population the past year, its recent census showing 849,978 inhabitants.

Senator Thurman thinks the financial plank of the last Ohio democratic platform is the safest one the democrats can use in their national platform next year. The plank in question is at present doing duty as a headstone for Thurman's political grave, but if he is willing to have it taken away nobody else can object.

While Hendricks has been making himself openly ridiculous in Washington, attempting to get ahead of Tilden by clinging to Seymour's coat-tail, Tilden has been subsoiling so successfully in Indiana that he has the democratic press of the state practically a unit in favor of himself and against Hendricks. Tally another ten-strike for the whisper as an engine of reform!

There are prognostications of a speedy eruption by Ben Hill. His friends say he is not at all pleased by the remarks of his brother democratic statesmen to the effect that his mouth is the party's chief danger. He isn't at all disposed to be calm under the spectacle of the rest of the statesmen standing around him and whispering in chorus, "Now do keep your mouth shut!" In fact, he regards it as a very mean dodge on their part to acquire a cheap reputation for discretion.

Russian Justice.

A verdict highly characteristic of Russian justice was recently given in the district court of Cherson, in Southern Russia. Three young collegians of respectable parentage stood arraigned before that tribunal upon the charge of having at different times stolen from the master of the British merchantman Beta, lying at anchor in Nicholaieff harbor, a gold watch and chain, a purse containing a sovereign, and a pair of gold sleeve-links. The prisoners made full confession of their delinquency, but appealed with heart-rending sobs to the patriotism of the court for exoneration from the legal consequence of their crime upon the grounds that they had purposed exercising "a well-merited vengeance upon the wicked English, who had inflicted so many wrongs upon Holy Russia!" Thus invoked, the jury returned a unanimous verdict of "not guilty," which enabled the judge to mulct the British plaintiff in all the costs of the action, including the expenses incurred by the state during the detention of the three young thieves in prison down to the day of their trial.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the Stomach.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude; cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

ITS NAME IS ITS BEST DESCRIPTION, as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health, and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages. It has frequently cured it when advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.

It cures DROPSY, general or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.

It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.
